

James Robert Pentagast (Seasoned 2)

Youngest son of Albert Pentagast II, a blue blooded member of the Alabama aristocracy.

After a youth of wine, women and horse racing he loses his early inheritance when the Confederacy army seizes his shipment of fine drinks off a train from New York. His brother then marries his childhood sweetheart and takes his finest horse as a “wedding present”.

After stealing back his horse he burns his brother’s newly built family home to the ground and flees to Mexico.

Now out for revenge against the Confederacy and the whole Southern Establishment.
